UNION PICNIC NEXT THURSDAY

Twenty-Eighth of August Set for Sunday Schools Gathering. To Be Held at Round Top. Committees Making Arrangements.

One hundred and forty-five delegates assured the success of the fourteenth annual convention of the Adams County Sabbath School Association which went into session this afternoon at Biglerville. At none of the former meetings has the representation been so large.

In addition to the enrollment and business session, this afternoon's program consisted of the following features: Devotional period and greeting conducted by Rev. C. F. Floto; the Sunday school and missions by Mrs. S. C. Burger; graded lessons by Rev. George Dowe; and a talk on temperance instruction in the Sabbath school by Rev. L. L. Seiber, who took the place of Prof. F. G. Troxell.

This evening after the teacher training alumni luncheon, which started at five o'clock, there will be a praise service led by I. L. Taylor. At seven-thirty, T. J. Winebrenner will conduct devotions, to be followed by Rev. J. B. Baker's illustrated talk to the children. Rev. W. K. Fleck will conclude the program with an address on "Present Day Sunday School Opportunities."

Friday's session will commence at nine o'clock in the morning, and will be replete with interesting talks. Among those who will address the audience are: Prof. Roy Knouse, Rev. George Dowe, Rev. F. E. Taylor, Prof. F. G. Troxell, Dr. J. A. Clutz, S. S. Reaser, and Prof. C. F. Sanders.

The parade, to start at six o'clock, is expected to be an exceptionally large demonstration. Superintendents from all Sunday schools within some distance of Biglerville are requesting their members to take part and bring their banners with them. The Men's Bible Class of St. James church will meet at the Reading station and go in a body on the 4:00 p. m. train.

CATHOLICS BEAT PRESBYTERIANS

Blue Stockings Now Tied with St. James for Second Place. Big Crowd Sees Game. Score Was 8-4.

Nearly 500 people saw the Presbyterians go down to defeat at the hands of the Catholics, by a score of 8 to 4, at Wednesday evening's game. Collection $8.39.

The first inning went along smoothly for both sides, but the second gave the Catholics more than half of their total runs scored. Raffensperger, who was in the box for the losing side, was wild and could not control the ball; he walked two men, with the bases full, thus forcing in several runs, besides giving several more batters first by hitting them with the ball. The end of the half of this inning saw the Catholics with the game practically won. The next inning, P. Oyer replaced Raffensperger for the Presbyterians, and, after this, runs were not so freely handed out. J. Stock, who pitched for the Catholics, was hit several times for runs but he pitched a steady game and the runs the Presbyterians made were earned runs.

Each side scored several runs after the fateful second but when the end of the fifth came the Presbyterians could no longer lay title to a tie for first place with their evening's opponents.

To-night's game will be St. James vs Methodist.

The way the teams now stand is as follows:

Catholic	3	0	1.000
Presbyterian	2	1	.667
St. James	2	1	.667
Methodist	1	2	.333
Reformed	1	2	.333
College	0	3	.000

CONVENTION NOW AT BIGLERVILLE

Fourteenth Annual Convention of Adams County Sabbath School Association Now in Session. Big Parade Friday.

At a recent meeting of the Sunday Schools union picnic committee, held at St. James church, it was decided to hold this year's picnic next Thursday, August 28th, at Round Top. The meeting there last year was such a success that it was thought best not to change the location provided arrangements could be made for the use of the grounds, and this permission was obtained Wednesday.

Four committees to carry out the details of the affair were appointed; that of entertainment, which is by far the largest because of the diversified requirements of it, another on transportation, one on refreshments and a fourth to request the business men of the town to close their various places of business so that their employees may be free to attend the gathering.

The appointments were as follows: Entertainment; Rev. F. E. Taylor; Misses Louise Stahley, Lily Dougherty, Katherine Duncan, Luella McAllister, Carrie Miller, Mrs. J. A. Holtzworth, Mrs. L. D. Ott, Messrs. R. K. Major, J. C. Nau, Howard Shaeffer, Luther Musselman and Oscar Lupp. Refreshment, T. J. Winebrenner. Transportation; Messrs. I. L. Taylor, E. P. Miller and John Hewitt. To interview business men, Miss Grace Sachs, Mrs. Milton Rimmel and Mrs. Roy Zinn.

The committee of entertainment will have its meeting on Monday evening, at which time it will formulate plans to keep everyone pleasantly occupied the day of the celebration. The Citizens' Band will be invited to attend and the general plans of last year enlarged upon and improved as much as is feasible.

It is not thought that the committee of transportation will be able to induce the Trolley Company to offer a reduced fare for that day, as that matter is out of the hands of the local management. An order was received some time ago from the owners of the road to increase the fare to twenty cents for the round trip. Local people feel that this is expensive, particularly for this occasion. However, some arrangements will be made for all those who care to go, announcement of which will be made later.

The different families are expected to take their own lunch, but Mr. Winebrenner has arranged with the owners of Rosensteel's Pavilion to have a supply of ice cream, soft drinks, and other light refreshments on hand for those who care to purchase them.

Sufficient time has not elapsed for the business men's committee to get an adequate idea of the employers' dispositions in regard to closing in the afternoon.

ELKS CORN BAKE BIG SUCCESS

Large Crowd Disposes of Many Good Things to Eat at Andy Smith Farm, A Number of Visiting Elks There.

Andy J. Smith's farm near town, on the Bonneville road, was the scene of the Elks annual "Corn Bake" on Wednesday evening. The affair was the largest and most successful event held by the local lodge of Elks since their establishment. Fully 125 Elks and their friends participated in the event. The committee in charge of the supper was Oliver J. Boston, John W. Brehm and Paul Martin and they provided an elaborate and worth-while menu. There were Elks from Harrisburg, Carlisle, Chambersburg and Hanover was also well represented. These, with their guests, all were of the same opinion; that the affair was the most successful social gathering held by the local lodge for many months.

There were things to eat and then "more to eat", as forty-five chickens had been fried to a delicious brown by the loyal wives and friends of the local order. Fried chicken was not the only attraction, there was baked corn, by the hundred ears, baked potatoes by the bushel, besides broiled ham, chicken and potato salad, cheese and three or four kinds of delicious desserts, including French punch, which all received their share of attention from the jolly crowd.

The embers necessary to roast the potatoes and corn, alone required three cords of wood, which was started burning at three o'clock in the afternoon, so everything would be in readiness when the supper was started at eight o'clock.

There was also a musical program, rendered by several of the more talented Elks, who came to the affair supplied with tin fifes and other instruments of torture. A perfect night, a jolly gathering and plenty for everyone made the evening a success. When ten o'clock came and the automobiles started to roll back to town not a word was heard from anyone present but that "it was the best and most successful evening ever held by the local lodge."

THAW'S LAWYERS WIN A POINT

Get Writ to Make Canada Show
Reasons For Detention.

SNY HE IS HELD ILLEGALLY

Great Crowds, Friendly to Fugitive,
Jam the Streets and Shout For Him.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 21.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus requiring the presence of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, who escaped from Matteawan, in the superior court at Sherbrooke, was granted by Judge Globensky.

There was no procedure in open court. Thaw's lawyers, led by Charles D. White, submitted the petition to the court in private, which then announced that it had been granted. They contended that he has been detained illegally and that through habeas corpus proceedings he should be set free at once.

Meantime in the court room a restless crowd craned necks and perspired, only to depart in chagrin when the news spread that Thaw would not appear.

This move, regarded at first as a formality to bring Thaw into court after his arrest as a fugitive from Matteawan, was subsequently explained by his counsel as being more significant.

Sheriff Hornbeck, of Dutchess county, N. Y., where Matteawan is located, reached Sherbrooke, armed with the warrant issued in Poughkeepsie, charging Thaw with conspiring with his keeper, Barnum, and five other men to obtain Thaw's release. The sheriff said he would bide his time until the court had taken action.

A man, giving the name of "Mitchell Thompson," and believed to be the Roger Thompson implicated in Harry Thaw's escape, was arrested while loitering about the court house. He was taken into custody by Dominion immigration officers. He is described as one of the two men with Thaw when he was arrested near Coaticook.

The presence in Sherbrooke of the most spectacular and sensational prisoner in the world made it a gala occasion. Not one of the provincial fairs which are being held throughout eastern Canada at this time could vie with Thaw as an attraction.

Great crowds came into Sherbrooke from the surrounding country. Families gathered about the jail, hoping to get a glimpse of the notorious prisoner if he was taken to the court house. Some came a distance of 100 miles to see Thaw. The street on which the jail is located was jammed. This attention tickled Harry Thaw immensely.

Sentiment in Sherbrooke is distinctly in Thaw's favor. A great crowd which greeted him at the station when he arrived from Coaticook shouted: "Let him go! Set him free! He hasn't done anything to us! Give him a chance!" There were, by count, eighteen women in the court room. They were well dressed, well-mannered and quiet.

The question of insanity was not embodied in the commitment which brings Thaw before the immigration authorities. He is held merely as a fugitive from the "penitentiary at Matteawan," where he was confined on a "criminal charge" for life.

Thaw himself was quick to see the chance for fighting deportation upon such grounds, for at Matteawan he was charged with nothing, being held as a lunatic acquitted of the "White murder." Along such lines it was expected his lawyers would seek to bar deportation to New York state.

The immigration officials, it was said, were aware of this loop hole in the commitment, and were considering the advisability of changing the charge. However, should they deport him simply as an undesirable alien—a lunatic—it might mean his entering the United States through some state other than New York, and this would involve protracted extradition proceedings within that state, the outcome of which would be doubtful.

ACTORS OPPOSE JOHNSON

Britons Will Strike If Negro Pugilist Appears on Stage.

London, Aug. 21.—If Jack Johnson, the American heavy-weight pugilist, appears at a London music hall at which he is booked, beginning Aug. 25, none of the other performers will appear, according to a statement issued to the newspapers.

His engagement is regarded as a degradation to the profession. The Variety Artists' Federation is expected to take action in the matter at a special meeting.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Supporters of Representative Henry D. Clayton, Governor O'Neal's appointee to succeed the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston, of Alabama, decided not to ask for a caucus, but to present his commission to the senate at once and let the committee on elections deal with the question of seating him.

DR. R. F. C. KIER.

Superintendent of Asylum From Which Thaw Escaped.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

Dr. Raymond F. C. Kier, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan, who was in charge of the institution when Harry Thaw made his escape, is to conduct a rigid inquiry of his own in connection with any possible plot that may have existed between Thaw and any guards at the asylum. Howard H. Barnum, aged fifty, was keeper of the gate through which the prisoner made his escape. He has been connected with the Matteawan institution for seventeen years. He says efforts of Dr. Kier to implicate him are unfair. The gate through which Thaw escaped is also shown.

400 MADE HOMELESS BY $1,000,000 FIRE

Flames in Jersey City Wipe Out Forty Buildings.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 21.—More than forty dwellings and factories, covering a space equal to more than three city blocks, in the Lafayette section of this city, were destroyed by fire in less than three hours.

There was no loss of life. The property loss was estimated at $1,000,000. Probably 400 persons were made homeless and six large manufacturing plants were wiped out. The pillar of flame and smoke which arose from the conflagration could be seen for miles around.

Forty dogs, under observation for hydrophobia in a shelter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were shot to death just before the flames reached that building. All the ambulances in the city were sent to the scene to attend firemen overcome by smoke or burns.

KILLED IN FIST FIGHT

Hazleton Young Man Dies After Encounter Over Girls.

Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 21.—Raymond Fichter and Thomas Paisley, both of West Hazleton, were arranged on the charge of having caused the death of Thomas Williams, of Hazleton, in a fight over girls.

The hearing was stopped by a message from the district attorney, who wished to have a stenographer present. The result of the autopsy seems to indicate that young Williams died from heart failure. It is said he had been running just before the encounter.

The trouble resulted from a meeting of Williams and two other young men with two girls, Mari Holgen and Christina Ehrenburg, of West Hazleton, who had an appointment with Fichter and Paisley.

The girls charge that young Williams insulted them, whereupon their escorts attacked him. It was originally charged that a heavy blow from Fichter's fist caused the death of Williams.

Wife Opposed His Going to Church.

Seranton, Pa., Aug. 21.—It has been learned here that James G. Shepherd, a retired millionaire coal operator, has begun divorce proceedings in Reno, Nev. One of his allegations is that his wife opposed his attending church. Mr. Shepherd also declares that a nine months' tour of Europe was spoiled by the nagging of his wife. The Shepherds attended the fashionable Elm Park church here. Mr. Shepherd is the former president of a rich independent coal company.

Gettysburg Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voices in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Gettysburg citizen:

John A. Tawney, 234 Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I always keep them in the house. I take a few doses occasionally and they keep my kidneys in good working order. I suffered off and on from pains in the kidneys. I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly get out of bed. Some one advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply at the People's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to give me relief. You may continue publishing my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

LAMB CHOPS, ENGLISH STYLE

Across the Water They Are Generally Served With Green Peas, and Combination is Delicous.

Wipe each chop with a damp cloth and trim off any extra fat. Break an egg in a saucer, add a tablespoonful of warm water and beat with a fork just enough to break the stringiness. Have ready a quantity of dried and sifted bread crumbs. Cracker crumbs are often used, but do not give as crisp a crust. Dip each chop in the egg, lift up and drain for a moment, then roll in the crumbs. Repeat until the chops are breaded. In a saucepan put a tablespoonful of butter, one-half of a teaspoonful each of salt and sugar and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper. Place over the fire, and as soon as hot add one quart of shelled peas. Cover and shake for two or three minutes, add just enough boiling water to keep from burning and cook, adding a little water as needed until tender. Have a quantity of fat in a saucepan. Heat until smoking hot. Plunge in two or three chops at a time; in half a minute draw to the side of the fire and cook more slowly. They should be done in from five to eight minutes, according to the thickness of the chops. Drain on unglazed paper. Heap the peas in the center of a platter and range the chops round.

Iron Rust on Linen.

When linen becomes rusted from the iron, oxalic acid and hot water applied before washing removes the stains. After using the acid rinse the linen a few times, which leaves the linen beautiful and white.

Vermines Custard.

Cook a cup of granulated sugar over a hot fire until it becomes caramel. Turn quickly into your baking dish, moving it as to coat the sides and bottom with the mixture. This must be done quickly as the caramel hardens rapidly. Make a custard as usual, turn into your well-baked dish and bake until firm in the center. Chill thoroughly. To serve turn out on a glass dish. The caramel gives a delicious flavor and makes a splendid sauce.

Shining Ebony Brushes.

For cleaning ebony brushes the following is very good: Before washing, rub a little vasoline over the backs, as this prevents the ammonia or soda in the water from injuring the ebony. The vasoline should afterward be rubbed off and the backs polished with a dry cloth.

ESCAPE JAIL ON UNIQUE LADDER

Murderer and Thief Flee From Phila. Penitentiary.

THEY SCALE 36-FOOT WALL

Convicts Put Wooden Hook on Cell Door and Dodge Eight Dogs in the Prison Yard.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—By means of a false hook on their cell door and a ladder which was a marvel of ingenuity, Homer Cleveland Wiggins, the slayer of a policeman, and Charles Taylor, a thief, escaped from the eastern penitentiary at Twenty-first street and Fairmount avenue.

Both men were "trusties," and had employment in the woodworking shop at the prison. With the tools they thus had access to they contrived to make a hook and a ladder. This they did in their cells. Many of the prisoners, while in their cells, execute work that they sell, so Wiggins and Taylor escaped suspicion.

Wiggins, who is eighteen years old, was serving a sentence of from nineteen to twenty years. Taylor, who is thirty-nine years old, had served one year of a five to seven year sentence. Robert McKenty, the warden of the prison, says their recapture is certain, though no clue to their whereabouts has yet been obtained.

The ladder was constructed of poplar and was joined together with screws, though these ran out toward the last. The convicts then made notches in the single pole of the ladder and into these notches fitted the rungs, seemingly frail, but wonderfully strong.

A hook for the ladder was needed, so it could be fastened securely to a window sill when the escape took place. So the convicts made a cunning substitute, of wood, for the iron hook on the cell door. They painted it black. The iron hook finally was placed on the ladder and the wooden hook on the door. Plans for the flight were now completed.

The great prison was wrapped in silence and shadows when the plotters softly opened their cell door, no iron hook being there to prevent, and then peered out into the long, gloomy corridor. There was no one in sight.

There were four guards at various stations on the upper tier, but not one saw or heard the escaping convicts as they stole like phantoms to the store-room and through a small window to the roof.

Working swiftly and quietly, they "assembled" the ladder and made one end fast by the hook. Then down they slid to the prison yard, where lurked eight vicious dogs.

But Taylor, with his mind on the future, had furtively cultivated these dogs while on duty in the engine room. At that time he had the privilege of going into the prison yard at intervals during the night, and it is supposed that the dogs grew to know and disregard him.

In any event, not one of these big creatures made a sound as the fugitives, carrying the ladder, crept the few yards across the yard to the sheer wall on Twenty-second street, a wall which shot up thirty-six feet above their heads. Quietly the ladder was placed against it, and like cats the men ascended it.

Eight minutes after the fugitives had quitted their cell, their stockinged feet padded softly down on the brick pavement of Twenty-second street. The slayer and the thief were free, and a few minutes later they had vanished, swallowed up by the night.

Shortly afterward a prison watchman "pulled" the box, as a record of one of his frequent rounds. A second later he saw the ladder. Instantly he discharged his revolver, attracting the attention of the armed guard in the tower, who sounded the alarm on a clanging bell.

The firing of the revolver and the ringing of the bell had aroused most of the 1500 prisoners. They began to scream and shout. "Who are they?" the convicts shrieked. "How many got away?" In some of the prison "blocks" away" was passed by "telegraph" tapping of the water pipes that the prison was on fire. In these sections the din was deafening. An hour passed before the clamor had subsided.

U. S. DEPOSITS READY FOR MOVING CROPS

The Treasury to Safeguard Its $50,000,000.

Washington, Aug. 21.—First deposits of the government's $50,000,000 fund to aid the crop movement in the south and west will be made in the southern states in August and September. All deposits in all states will be made in two equal allotments.

In a statement Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo outlined the department's requirements for security.

Though all deposits may be recalled without notice, the treasury expects to recall 25 per cent on Dec. 15, another 25 per cent on Jan. 15, 1914, another Feb. 15 and the remainder March 1. The banks will pay two per cent interest and all expenses and may surrender the deposits at any time before March 10.

Secretary McAdoo says the government expects that, by making the deposits in national banks in the chief cities, the funds will be used in good faith for relieving stringency and not for speculative purposes and will be distributed to smaller banks at moderate and reasonable interest. Deposits will be placed only with banks which have 40 per cent of their possible circulation of national bank notes outstanding.

Ten per cent of the security for the crop loans must be in government bonds and the remaining 90 per cent may be high class state, municipal and other bonds, approved by the secretary, at 75 per cent of their market value. Prime commercial or business paper will be accepted at 65 per cent of its face value, when endorsed by the bank, approved by a securities committee of six members of the clearing house district from which it comes.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 21.—L. R. Vredenburgh, special commissioner appointed to investigate the Roseville Trust company, gave out the following statement:

The total deficiency therefore appears to be $258,000. In that estimation no deduction has been made from the face value of the notes or losses thereon in collection."

"Whatever may be recovered from the surety on the treasurer's bond of $20,000 is not included in the foregoing estimate of loss, as the surety company has not yet admitted the liability."

REBUKES MEN FOR INSULTING FLAG

Secretary Daniels Blames the L. W. W. and Socialists.

PROBE OF SEATTLE RIOTS

Navy Head Orders Punishment of Sailors Who Ruined Property in Western City.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Secretary Daniels has directed the punishment of the sailors of the Pacific reserve fleet who participated in the destruction of the Industrial Workers of the World and Socialists' property in Seattle, Wash., on July 17-18, if they can be identified, though he severely condemned the civilians who abused the sailors and the American flag.

The secretary's action was based on a report by a board of investigation, headed by Commander Thomas Washington. The board found that for some time before the rioting at Seattle there had been attacks upon the flag, the government, and particularly upon the army and navy in the Pacific Reserve cities by people calling themselves members of the Industrial Workers of the World, and to some extent by so-called Socialists. The civil authorities, the report said, allowed speakers to harangue crowds and engender ill feeling, resulting in the attack upon the soldiers and two sailors on July 17. This led to the burning and destruction of property the following night.

The board placed direct responsibility for the action of the crowd led by civilians and including only a small proportion of enlisted men, upon the failure of the police force to prevent the destruction of property because of their sympathy with the purposes of the crowd.

Furthermore, the board expressed the opinion that the rioting was attributable to general sentiment against the Industrial Workers of the World and the criticism of the press, and that the presence of enlisted men was made to serve the purpose of accomplishing an end which the better element of people desired and the press encouraged.

In passing upon this report, which was transmitted by Rear Admiral Reynolds, Secretary Daniels declared that while the conduct of those who denounced and assaulted soldiers was most reprehensible and deserving of condemnation, "their violent language, unprovoked assault on soldiers and lawlessness does not justify retaliation in kind."

The secretary recalled his statement in a speech in Seattle that obedience to authorities and respect for the flag must precede any reforms. He expressed regret that the sailors had permitted themselves to forget their duty to uphold the law which they had sworn to uphold, and added that their conduct in Seattle was against the naval regulations and could not be condoned or allowed to go without punishment.

So far is known none of the sailors participating in the affair have been identified.

POLICE SAVE MAN FROM MOB

Alleged Assailant of Girl Near Baltimore Rushed to Jail by Captors.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 21.—Arrested on the charge of attempting to assault Gladys Carney, thirteen years old, of Carney, Baltimore county, John Stallings, thirty-three years old, of this city, was rescued from the hands of a mob only when three patrolmen drew their revolvers and threatened to shoot the first man who touched their captive.

The crowd had surrounded the patrolmen, who made the arrest near the bridge at Carney, where the attack on the girl occurred.

The members of the crowd, who had gone out as a posse armed with clubs and farming implements in an effort to catch the alleged assailant, came upon Stallings after he had been identified by his victim and by her little cousin, Florence Casey, five years old, who was with her at the time of the assault.

According to the police, Stallings has confessed. Stallings was rushed to jail at Gardenville, where he is being held for safe keeping.

SULZER PLANS TO FIGHT TAMMANY

He Will Take Part in New York Mayorality Contest.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Governor Sulzer confided to friends that whether he is found guilty or acquitted by the court of impeachment, he will enter the mayoralty campaign in New York city and make the fight of his life against Charles F. Murphy and Tammany candidates.

"I do not fear the trial at the hands of the court of impeachment," declared Governor Sulzer to one of his friends, "and I have a satisfactory explanation for these charges. But no matter what the decision of the court, I intend to vigorously enter the New York city mayoralty campaign personally and urge from every street corner the election of John Purroy Mitchell for mayor."

Counsel for Governor Sulzer insist that not only the seven elected judges of the court of appeals, but that three Republican supreme court justices, Hisecock, Chase and Miller, who are serving as associate judges of the court of appeals under appointment from the governor, shall sit in the impeachment court.

These three votes added to the impeachment court would increase by two the number of votes required to convict Governor Sulzer. The court will consist of thirty-two judges of the court of appeals who are Democrats and one Republican, and possibly the three designated Republican justices. If all these sit forty votes will be necessary to impeach, or thirty-eight if only the seven elected judges sit.

Impeached Governor Mistakes Albany Sightseers For Gangsters.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—As Governor Sulzer approached the capitol steps on his way from the executive mansion, three stalwart young men turned around to stare at him.

"Are you here to assault me?" the governor asked.

"Why in the world should we want to assault you?" replied one of the men. "We are simply sightseers."

The executive, his fears quieted, shook hands nervously with the men and walked up the steps to the executive chamber. Sulzer is said to have had warnings of a plan to have him kidnapped.
